Dear Dr. Berry:

It was certainly a pleasure to see you again and particularly to note your excellent state of vigor, health and youthfulness.

In looking over my lengthy career, I have concluded that your help to me at a crucial time in the early years was extremely valuable. I want you to know how much I appreciate it and our friendship through the years since that time.

I shall certainly get your book and keep it in my library.

Things are going quite well for me at this time and I hope they are for you. I hope we can keep it up.

Looking forward to seeing you over the years at all the good meetings, I am

Yours sincerely,

Arthur M. Freeman, M.D.
