New York City 30, N. Y.

Dear John:

I have just received the announcement folder of your new book sent to me by "Charlie". I want to extend to you my heartiest congratulations. I know that this was not an easy task in the setting in which you are working because I am in a comparable setting in Chicago and by now I certainly know the score.

I congratulate you on your finesse and the sustained enthusiasm which it takes to break through family schedules and other kinds of schedules to get one of these things done.

Hope you and family are in the best of health and the next time I come to New York for a day or two I am going to find the time to see what you look like by now.

Sincerest regards and best wishes,

Leonidas H. Berry, M. D.
